Alex & Hannah Absolom

Alex and Hannah Absolom have been in church leadership since 1994, serving in a wide range of settings from church plants to megachurches. Together they lead Dandelion Resourcing (dandelionresourcing.com), which equips naturally supernatural discipleship and mission. Originally from England, since 2007 the Absaloms have been called as a family of missionaries to the United States. Today they live in Long Beach, California, and have 3 cheeky but charming young adult sons and their first civilizing daughter-in-law!
